The Toxic Avenger Musical

Melvin Ferd the Third, an earth scientist, wants to clean up Tromaville, the most polluted town in New Jersey. He's also in love with the town's blind librarian, but she can't see the good in him. After the corrupt mayor's thugs dump Melvin into a drum of radioactive toxic waste, he emerges as the Toxic Avenger, New Jersey's first superhero. So goes this Off-Broadway cult rock musical, with book by Joe DiPietro, music by David Bryan, and lyrics by both, based on Michael Herz and Lloyd Kaufman's 1984 film. With direction and choreography by the newest Los Angeles Drama Critic Circle lifetime achievement winner Janet Miller, and music direction by her frequent collaborator Corey Hirsch, we can pretty much guaranty contamination-free theater.
